Hootenanny
a Songbook of radical campfire Songs
No revolutionary movement is complete without its poetic expression. If such a movement has caught hold of the masses, they will seek a vent in song for the aspirations, fears and hopes; the loves and hatreds engendered by the struggle. Until the movement is marked by the joyous singing of revolutionary songs, it lacks one of the most distinctive marks of a popular revolutionary movement; it is the dogma of a few and not the faith of the multitude.
~James Connolly, 1904
